PROPERTY DETAILS

This home is part of an affordable homeownership program through Elevation Community Land Trust (ECLT). Interested parties should review the program details on ECLT's website. Clients must go through the application process and obtain a letter of full qualification from ECLT and approval from a participating lender before making an offer. The studio at La Tela Condominiums in the Santa Fe Arts District features stainless steel appliances, washer and dryer, a built-in Murphy bed, and a spacious bathroom. The neighborhood is walkable with galleries, restaurants, and shops. The building has LED lighting and solar panels for reduced utility costs. A great opportunity to live in Downtown Denver at an affordable price!
